Introducing Newline Broadcast

Wireless Content Sharing Made Easy

Share your large screen to your audience's small screens for easier viewing - all with one button. Perfect for large meeting rooms, lecture halls, and all types of conferencing events.

Just tap the Broadcast button, and anyone, anywhere, on any device can see what's on your screen in real-time. No need to schedule sessions or use a complicated setup to share content.

Being in the back of the room no longer means being left out of the discussion.
