5. Accept the Google Permissions by selecting "More," then "Accept" when you see the screen below.

6. If you have entered a work email address, you will see the screen below. Select "Next" to continue setting up your display.
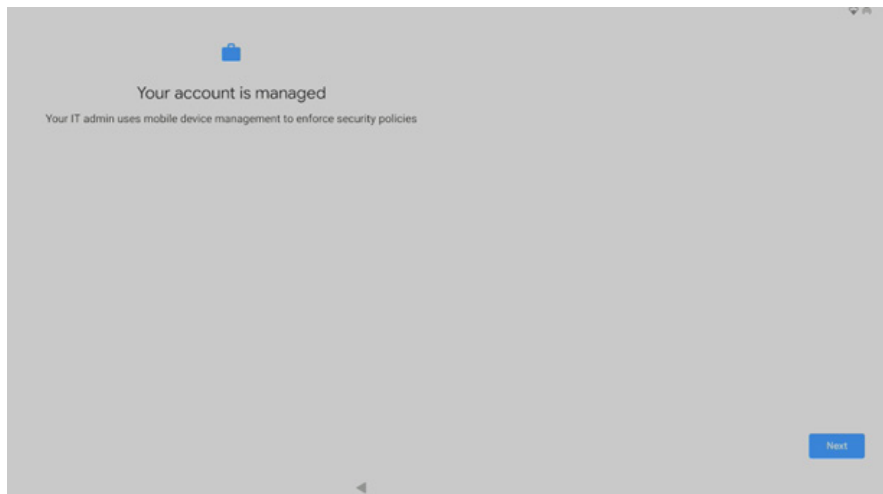

7. After selecting next, you will see the screen below while your panel prepares to continue the set up process. This screen may take a few minutes.
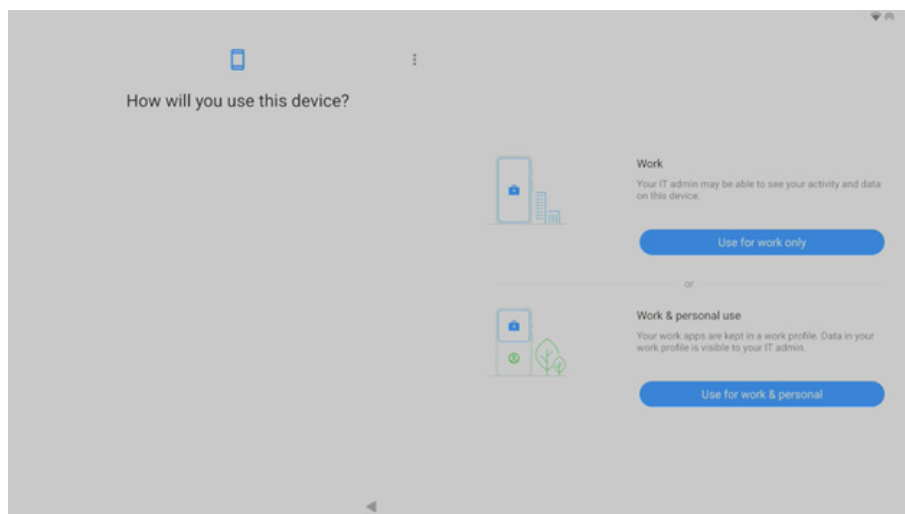

8. When you see the screen below, you will need to decide how you are utilizing your display. See the options below:

"Use for Work Only": When selecting the work option, IT Administrators are creating a secure environment which prevents standard xxxx.xxxx@gmail.com accounts from being added. However, with this option, local profiles will be limited to a single account (Single-user Mode) without the ability to add additional user profiles.

"Use for Work & Personal": When selecting the work & personal use option, IT Administrators are given the option to add additional Google Accounts without restriction. However, with this option, administrators will have the ability to create multiple user profiles (Multi-user Mode) which can be used by different users.
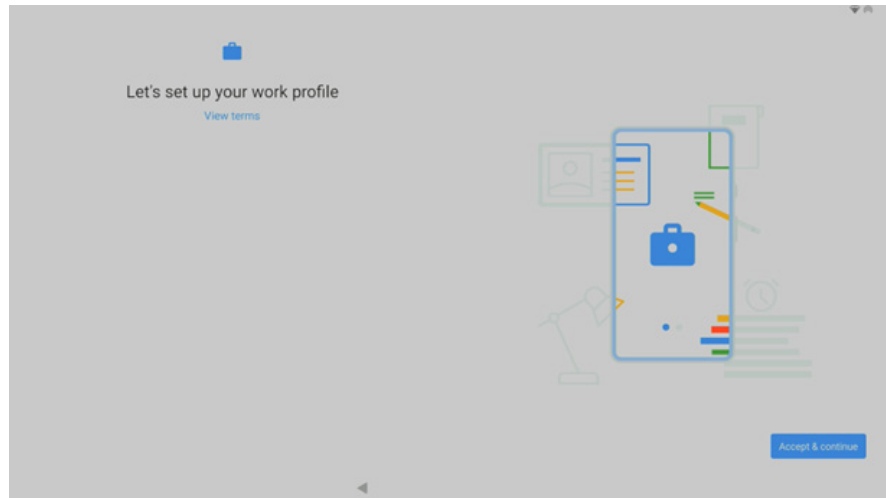

Skip: If you choose to skip the Google Setup Wizard in step 4, Work & Personal will be setup as the default option, therefore enabling multi-user mode.
